Vocation Ministry for Corpus Christi Parish, Diane Bailey

As the 2017 Bishop's Annual Appeal wraps up at the end of this fiscal year, June 30, we are grateful to the Catholic community for donating time, talent and treasure to support ministries and services vital to the future of the Catholic Church in Vermont.

The success of this Bishop's Annual Appeal has resulted in the expansion of the New Evangelization program, youth ministry events statewide, revamping of our catechism and Pre-Cana programs, new communication platforms, launch of the Diocesan Synod, standardization of our Catholic schools' curriculum and so much more. It also helps sustain on-going parish, school and community services such as financial aid to Catholic schools, Vermont Catholic Charities emergency aid, cemetery maintenance, Diocesan Tribunal, vocations and priest benefits.

All of this was accomplished with a minimal increase to the ministry and program budget from FY 2016 to cover annual cost-of-living raises.

"Fiscal responsibility is a priority," said Burlington Bishop Christopher Coyne. "We were able to strategically reallocate resources from program to program without hiring a lot of new staff. In fact, our Bishop's Appeal goal was $100,000 less this year compared to last year."

In addition, the Diocese has created new avenues for the lay community to donate their time and talent on committees, such as the Pastoral Council, which is another valuable resource that allows the Diocese to do more with less. None of this would be possible without the support of parish pastors and administrators. They are the driving force behind the success of the Bishop's Appeal.

More than 50 percent of the parishes and missions with an appeal goal met or exceeded their pledge goal. Another 17 parishes were at 90 to 99 percent of pledged goal. A total of 11,182 families pledged to make a gift this year. A few highlights include:

◆◆Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Parish, Ludlow, has 173 percent of goal pledged and 165 percent paid.

◆◆St. Stephen Parish, Winooski, was the first to meet its goal and has 124 percent of goal pledged.

◆◆Our Lady of Fatima Parish, Wilmington, increased pledges by 32 percent compared to last year and has 99 percent of goal pledged.

We are grateful for every single gift and pledge to invest these resources in ministries and programs that serve each parish, school and the larger Vermont Catholic community.
